

Wednesday
Sept. 29, 2010

Diversity Brown Bag

“Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About American Indians but Were Afraid to Ask”

11:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.

Board Rooms A and B (Fourth Floor)

Come with your questions!

Dr. Anton “Tony” Treuer
Professor of Ojibwe Language
Bemidji State University

Dr. Donald Day
Executive Director
American Indian
Resource Center
Bemidji State University

The Office of the Chancellor Diversity Team has chosen to recognize September 2010 as American Indian Awareness Month. The featured guest panelists are both members of the Leech Lake Tribe of Ojibwe. This is a rare opportunity to experience an interactive informal presentation about Ojibwe history, culture, treaties with the United States government and the effects of immigration.

Learning Objectives:

- Participants will gain insights into Native American issues.
- Participants will expand their knowledge and understanding of barriers and challenges facing Native American students.

Additional Information:

- To register for this webinar session go to:

<https://mnscu.webex.com/mnscu/k2/j.php?ED=120367647&UID=1056884722&RT=Mim3&FM=1>

Events planned by the Office of the Chancellor’s Diversity Team are strongly endorsed by the leadership of the Office of the Chancellor; and, therefore, programs which promote a better understanding of our differences are considered an important part of the workday. Employees and supervisors are encouraged to attend these events and are not required to use vacation leave or compensatory time.

Any questions on this topic can be addressed to Office of the Chancellor’s Human Resources department. For more information on the Diversity Brown Bag, contact Ka Vang, Diversity Programs Director, at ka.vang@so.mnscu.edu or 651.201.1599.